

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my guide Prof. S.M. Joshi, Head, Dept. of Educational Administration, for her guidance, and the freedom, encouragement and affection provided by her during all these years.

The unparalled co-operation and valuable suggestions extended by Dr. Derek Sequeira, Dept. of Educational Administration, at every step of this work have greatly contributed to the quality of this work.

I owe a great debt to Prof. M.B. Buch for several helpful discussions on the problem at the very beginning of the study.

Prof. C.N. Daftuar, Dept. of Psychology; Prof. Anil Bhatt, Faculty of Commerce and Dr. V.D. Thomas, Dept. of Education, deserve grateful thanks for providing their scholarly suggestions at various stages of this work.

I also owe my thanks to Dr. N. Pradhan, Dept. of Education; Dr. C. Neogi, Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta and Mr. V. Kalamkar, Dept. of statistics who have contributed significantly in shaping the work.

I am immensely indebted to Prof. Arati Sen and Dr. D. Kundu of Visva Bharati, Santiniketan, whose constant encouragement greatly boosted my morals.

Thanks are due to the librarians of Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad; Centre of Advanced Study in Education, Baroda and Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta, for providing me great co-operation in procuring the related books of my study.

I am also indebted to the principals and teachers of the schools of Baroda for rendering their co-operation in collecting data.

I owe a great debt to my parents, husband, in-laws and all other family members whose sustained co-operation, warmth and encouragement have been a source of inspiration to me throughout.
