

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A very few teachers contribute their time, knowledge and special acumen unselfishly. My guide and teacher, Prof. Urmi Nanda Biswas, Professor, Dept. of Psychology, the M.S. University of Baroda, Vadodara, is one of them. Utter perfection lies in her habit. She gets satisfied only when she verifies the information and facts. I feel privileged to conduct and complete my Ph.D. under her valuable supervision. I pay my gratitude to her.

It is a popular saying in Hindi that, “PhD ki nahi jati, karai jati hai” meaning thereby that Ph.D. can’t be done without support of others. This holds true in my Ph.D. work also. I would like thank those people; without whom, I may not be able to complete and submit the thesis.

Dr. Anjuli Verma, Head and Reader, who allowed me to conduct this research work under the Department of Psychology, M.S. University, Vadodara. I express my sincere thanks to her.

Dr. Rashmin Sompura, Lecturer, Department of Psychology, The M.S. University, Vadodara, is a cheerful person with sound depth of knowledge, always stood by to help me at every moment of difficulty. I express my sincere thanks to him.

Also, I would like to thank Dr. Renu Sharma, Reader, department of Psychology, The M.S. University, Vadodara, who gave me some very important and valuable suggestions to improve the research work.

I wish to convey my special thanks to all the doctors who sent their clients for the research work. Throughout the research work they maintained the link between me and the clients. Because of their efforts there were no dropouts. Clients came regularly throughout the whole research work. I am highly thankful to the Skin Specialist who took out time from his busy schedule to check symptoms of clients under study.

I express my thanks from inner core of my heart to all the research participants who willingly took part in the research work. They showed their faith in me and attended the sessions regularly. Without their cooperation it was just impossible to complete the research work.

I am thankful to Mr. Harendra Parmar, Student, The M.S. University, Vadodara, who stood by me as my younger brother during initial stage of research work.

Further, I pay my sincere thanks to Prof. Paresh Prajapati, Professor, L.D. Arts College, Gujarat University; Ahmedabad. He is an expert statistician, helped me in data analysis.

I feel lucky that my family; Papa, mummy and my younger brother who stood by me in all odds, which I faced during the research work. They were a constant source of motivation and support throughout the research work. I extend my gratitude to Dr. B.K.Singh, M.Sc, Ph.D. (Geology), ONGC, Ahmedabad, my uncle who believed that I have potential to do research work and his vision motivated me to continue and complete the research against all obstacles. For them saying thanks is just not enough. I can only respect them, love them and follow them.

Sincere thanks to Mr. Jasu Bhai, Driver, for taking care of travelling schedules during the therapeutic sessions.

I am also thankful to my students who supported me during the research work. Special thanks to Umang, Dipika, Shachi, Nishita and Saptati.

Lastly but definitely not the least, I would like to thank my colleagues, members of “Khee Khee Club”; Dr. Priyanka Behrani who was also my teacher, Anuradha S, Dhvani Patel and Sharmishtha Paul who at the time of stress made me laugh and relieve the stress that I had during the submission phase of thesis. Their criticism, suggestions and support made me strong to complete the work.

April – 2011

Priyanka Kacker