

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Completion of a Ph.D. research can never be a one man's show. It needs helping hands at every stage of progress. When I look back I find there are a number of sweet souls who have rendered their help in many ways to give this final shape to my work.

First of all I would like to convey my sincere thanks to my Guide Dr. I. D. Bhatt, Professor in Department of Psychology, Faculty of Education & Psychology, the M.S. University of Baroda. No doubt he is the guide meant for my kind of researcher, who gave me ample freedom and encouragement to explore all my ideas. I have always got moral boost and emotional support from both my guide and his wife Ms. Rashmi Bhatt.

I thank Dr. N. S. Pathak, former Dean of Faculty of Education & Psychology, the M.S. University of Baroda, who has helped me in finalizing the design of the study and in resolving the complications of statistical analysis, through his enriching suggestions and constructive criticisms.

For the actual ground work of my Ph.D. research, I owe a lot to Dr. R. K. Parlikar the then Head of Department of Psychology, the M.S. University of Baroda, whom I had approached for carrier guidance. I offer my sincere thanks to him. Before I thank Dr. Parlikar, I must thank my local guardian Mr. N.D. Baijal, who had been the source of correspondence between me and the department at the initial phase.

I thank Dr. C. N. Daftuar, former Head of Department of Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, for his help in selecting tools and on many occasions we had intellectually stimulating discussions which have added to my competence. I thank all the office staff members of the Department of Psychology for their cooperation.

I thank Ms. Anjana Gaekwad for sharing her work on anxiety and her expertise on use of Hamilton's Anxiety and depression scales.

I am grateful to Dr. B. M. Palan retired Professor in Department of Physiology, S.S.G. Medical College, Baroda, for patiently going through my research proposal and his valuable suggestions.

Lots of thanks to Dr. K. N. Shinglot, Medical Officer, the M.S. University Health Center, whose contribution to my study is innumerable, right from training me on measuring physiological parameters to providing premises and referring clients to me. I also thank all the staff members of University Health Center for their cooperation.

I thank to Dr. N. Desai, former Administrator of Narhari Arogya Kendra for allowing me to use the hospital premises for my data collection. I convey my thanks to all the professionals and friends who have referred cases to me. I thank all my subjects for their kind cooperation, without which the study would not have been possible.

Thanks would be too formal and inadequate a word, hence I would say am glad that I met Mr. K. K. Bansal, whom I approached as a client for statistical analysis and today he has become a surrogate 'Dad' to me. I owe a lot to Bansal family, especially to Bansal Sir and Poonam Aunty for all the love and care I got from them is beyond comparison.

I just can't hold myself from thanking my friend Mr. V. R. Sule who has rendered miscellaneous helps at various stages of my work. Moreover, for his sincere prayers for my success.

I thank Mr. Pravin Chalke for the final shape of the thesis due to his typing work.

I am most thankful to Samuel Nyarondia, for sharing my last moment tensions.

Above all, I convey my heart filled gratitude and regards to Swami Satyananda Saraswati for his kind approval for conducting study on Yoga Nidra and for his blessings. I convey sincere gratitude to Swami Swarupananda Saraawati (BBSR) for imparting training on Yoga Nidra.

Last but not the least, I would always be grateful to my parents and family members for their unconditional love and support.

REKHA DAS ADHIKARI