EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

G.O.Ms.No.1533, Edn., Dated the 25th September, 1971.

Read:

From the State Survey Officer, Office of the Director of Public Instruction, D.O.No.SSO/PC/71, dt. 12.7.1971.

ORDER:

1. Since some time past Government have been considering the starting of Residential Schools in the rural areas of the State. The intention in starting such schools is that they should serve as centres of excellence. It has been found by experience in several states like Bihar, Maharashtra etc. that institutions run generally on the lines of Public School system which are residential in character and fully equipped with all facilities and staffed with competent hands, serve as feeder institutions capable of producing students of outstanding calibre. The impressive number of successful candidates from those States in All India competitive Examinations for admission to professional colleges of All India character has been rightly attributed to the existence of institutions of this nature. This apart, they set the standard for academic excellence and by so doing bring about the desired improvement. Judged, therefore, from all aspects, the development of a few such institutions in this State, particularly catering to rural requirements, so far neglected, is of urgent necessity and cannot be postponed further.

2. The entire issue has been thoroughly discussed at all levels. An Officer of the Education Department visited the Netherhat School, an exemplar in this line, and made a detailed study of its pattern and how it is run. Further the Government of India have evolved a scheme of awarding scholarships to two students from each Samithi Block. The scheme is to be put in operation from this year. It has been proposed to make use of this scheme in starting the Residential School. That is to say, the 8th class of this school to be started this year will consist of only those merit scholarship holders. So far as 5th class is concerned, admission will be by a special selection process based generally on competitive examination of the pattern adopted by the Netherhat School.
